THE EMMANUEL NEWSLETTER

WINTER 2018

COLLEGE NEWS

We were delighted to welcome all our new students to College for the new academic year at the beginning of October. The matriculation ceremony took place on 2 October in the College's Gallery, preceded by the annual matriculation photograph in Front Court, with the Master, Senior Tutor, Dean and Deputy Head Porter.

UNIVERSITY CHALLENGE

The College continues to progress through this season of University Challenge: at the time of writing, the team have won their first and second matches against King's College, London – winning 235–140 – and St Peter's, Oxford, with a score of 195–120. This is the third consecutive year that the Emmanuel team have reached the quarter finals of the group stages, and the last victorious team from Emma reached the 2009/10 final in the very same way!

REMEMBRANCE

On Sunday 11 November the two minutes' silence was observed, led by the Dean, Jeremy Caddick, and the Associate Dean, Alex Ross. ECSU and the MCR laid wreaths at the College's War Memorial. Members of the Boat Club also gathered to remember its members who gave their lives in the service of our country. One blade was laid out for every member who lost their life, amounting to 54 blades, or the equivalent of six rowing eights with a cox.

We also commemorated the centenary of the end of the First World War with an installation in the Chapel using three There But Not There silhouettes. Also on display was the volume recording the names of those who died in both world wars. The names, along with college and war service records, can be seen in the online Roll of Honour: <https://www.emma.cam.ac.uk/about/history/ww1/rollofhonour>

RUGBY

We're delighted that seven current Emma students have been selected for the Varsity Match squads! Calum McKay (2015), Iham Mohamed-Kasen (2016), Max Marshall (2017), Mike Phillips (2014) and Stephen

Leonard (2015) are part of the men's squad, and two of our women, Sophie Farrant (2013) and Emily Pratt (2016) are playing as part of the women's squad.

Mike and Stephen played on the winning Cambridge team in 2017, where we beat Oxford 20–10; Sophie and Emily also played last year for the women's team, also beating Oxford with a score of 24–0.

BOAT CLUB

Emma's Freddie Davidson, Vice-President of CUBC, returned to stroke the Blues boat at the British Rowing Championships in Nottingham in October, racing against crews from Oxford and Oxford Brookes. CUBC were victorious over the Oxford boat, clearing the line by six seconds to row to victory. The squad are steadily working towards the Boat Race next year and we're delighted that Emma is again represented.

Tom Roe has been selected for the Head of the River Fours as part of the Lightweight Men's four, racing as Granta.

Emmanuel's women are also represented in the 2018–19 season's boats: Larkin Sayre raced as part of a coxless four at the British Rowing Championships. She is one of the three members of the Blondie boat who won the reserve Boat Race earlier this year. Abba Parker (2017), who is also President of CUWBC, and Jess Godden (2017), are also racing during this season, taking part in the Head of the River Fours in November, starting from Mortlake. Abba is part of the Openweight 4+ (B) boat and Jess in the Lightweights.

FELLOWS' & COLLEGE RESEARCH ASSOCIATE'S NEWS

Alan Baker's (1970) work in historical geography is the subject of a chapter in a book published by Palgrave Macmillan this August on theory in the social sciences. Edited by Steven Hertler, an American professor of psychology, Life History Evolution: A Biological Meta-Theory for the Social Sciences, reviews work by researchers in six disciplines (geography, demography, history, anthropology, sociology and psychology) that study human nature and society from different perspectives. It includes chapters on, for example, the writings of geographer Ellsworth Huntington, ecological historian Alfred W Crosby, political economist and demographer Thomas Malthus, comparative historian Arnold Toynbee, world historian William McNeill, and sociologist Michael Mann. The chapter on Alan Baker's historical geography critically discusses his career-long endeavours to straddle the divide between history and geography.

John Harvey (1967) discussed his investigation of John Ruskin's paedophilia within his novel The Subject of a Portrait at the HowTheLightGetsIn Festival at Kenwood House on 23 September 2018. The panel discussion can be heard at: <https://soundcloud.com/instituteofartandideas/e119-the-good-the-bad-and-the-artist-stanley-fish-emma-sulkowicz-nell-stevens-john-harvey>

Joanna Waldie (2001), College Research Associate, spoke at events in the Michaelmas term highlighting mental health issues among early-career researchers. One of these was the Investigating Mental Health in the Research Community event hosted by the Royal Society of Chemistry. A shortened form of her talk can be found online: <https://www.cam.ac.uk/news/opinion-how-mental-health-problems-can-affect-early-career-researchers>

EVENTS NEWS

We were happy to see so many members at events in recent months. The Emmanuel Society have met regularly: local members have enjoyed studying Out of Reach: An Elegy for a Cambridgeshire Village and The Sport of Kings: Kinship, Class, Thoroughbred Breeding in Newmarket at our regular book groups in College and around Cambridgeshire.

The Master, her husband Bob Merrill and Sarah Bendall very much enjoyed their time in Australasia, East Asia and India during the first two weeks of September. We held enjoyable suppers in Auckland, Sydney and Singapore, and met members for lunch in Hong Kong and Delhi. We're very thankful to the members who hosted us; the Master will be returning before too long, and hopes to see many people again!

Dame Fiona and Sarah represented the College at the installation of the new President of Harvard, Larry Bacow, in October, and processed as numbers five and six in order of seniority of delegates from academic institutions (behind Oxford, Cambridge, Madrid and Mexico). The following day they gave a very well attended lunch for Emma members in Boston.

The Society visited the Supreme Court for the second time in 2018 and were again at capacity for our tour! We hope to be able to return to the Court again, because of the exceptional demand.

Recently the Master visited members in Scotland and very much enjoyed dinner with them at the Art Club in Glasgow. They heard a fascinating talk by Alice Strang (1992), Curator at the National Gallery of Scotland, on her work with contemporary art in Scotland.

Rob Misy very kindly hosted members in September at his offices in Chicago for a wine-tasting reception.

In College in November we were delighted to welcome Hugo Rifkind to speak to us about Can Traditional Journalism Survive In the Era of Fake News and Clickbait? and his work writing for The Times. Members and students were fascinated by his excellent talk, and were able to speak to him afterwards at a drinks reception, and at dinner in Hall.

We also enjoyed seeing members in College for the annual Society Day. The Society heard talks by the College Archivist, the President of the Society, Andrew Fane and Jamie Finlay about Emmanuel in the First World War, a life saved by a German soldier, and Douglas Finlay (1940)'s experience as a Prisoner of War in the Second World War.

Dr Klein gave us a fascinating lecture in the afternoon about the incredible discovery of an eighteenth-century newsprint found within the Chapel chandelier during its restoration (see this year's College Magazine). Members also had an opportunity to hear about the College's plans for the future and to see how the new site that makes them all possible.

If you'd like us to visit you, or to hold an event where you are, please get in touch with Mary, the Events Manager: events@emma.cam.ac.uk
